

THE TIPPING POINT

When is your team's performance worth improving?

Rate your team on 7 key indicators that impact business performance and could signal it's worth addressing some core team challenges.

How does your team add up?

Total Performance Points _____

NEXT STEP

Have your team take our FREE on-line Performance Assessment to gain insight about the road blocks that prevent your team from achieving its goals.

Contact Farr today so we can send you the secure link to our assessment center.

Contact Form • Team Optimization
800-395-3277 • www.farr.net

< 21 Points - Your team is likely the bane of the organization's and your existence. Farr's Team Optimization Process gets to the heart of your team's most pressing challenges and helps you develop an accountable and executable action plan to significantly improve business results. When what used to work suddenly stops working, changing how your team solves problems becomes a business imperative.
What's at stake? Everything.

22 - 28 Points - Your team has some great qualities but is being derailed by a few specific challenges. Farr will drill down and deliver the targeted strategies you need to make course corrections, solve problems more effectively and create the team agreements that will improve business outcomes.

What's at stake? The quality of your solutions, the time to execute them, and the impact they have on your customers and the organization.

> 29 Points - You have an exceptionally well functioning team. You probably are a leader that likes to keep raising the bar on performance. Tailored to meet your needs and move your team from good to great, our Team Optimization Process delivers advanced strategies an already diligent team needs to turn goals into results even faster.
What's at stake? Top tier performance.

